

A 2D hexagonal lattice plot showing a phase transition. The lattice is composed of yellow and red hexagons. A path of red hexagons starts from the top left and moves towards the bottom right, forming a complex, branching structure. The rest of the lattice is yellow. The axes are labeled from 0 to 15.

